ordered a resolution calling for a tax on wheat mill for domestic consumption. The bill was added a request that the price of wheat be raised.

In the circumstances facing the wheat producers of the West, it is not surprising these resolutions were passed, but it yet remains to be seen whether they will be given consideration at the hands of the Dominion government. The milling tax, in particular, will no doubt be most strenuously opposed, and many economically valid arguments will be used to defeat its introduction.

However, the fact that such a tax is in vogue in the United States, Britain, but in the sister dominion of Australia, lends support to the suggestion that it be given a trial.

That the raw material, wheat, comes for very little in the price of the finished product, bread, is demonstrated by experience, for when wheat sold at $1.25 per bushel, bread was sold at 10 cents.

This year wheat is being sold at a price of $1.00 per bushel, yet milling cost is about 40 cents per bushel and bread price has remained just one cent, 9 cents per pound.

It has to be admitted that the introduction of such a tax would be a rise in the price of bread, but a little study will convince anyone that, aside from farmers, the farming community itself is the largest beneficiary of it to be used in the baking of bread.

With world marketing conditions becoming so precarious, for wheat is a commodity for whose production is absolutely necessary, for it would be short, wheated at least, it would be a disaster to the world.

West to be exploited, not only by foreign buyers which is inevitable, but by their own countrymen as well as by the rest of the world.

A great deal is heard lately regarding the squandering of marketing money, but it is not wasting money, it is saving money and saving money means something which might otherwise be lost.

Wheat is a commodity which can be marketed on a worldwide scale.

THE U.F.A. DECISION

In view of the doubtful future prospect for farmers in the province, the decision of the United Farmers of Alberta to withdraw as a party from the political field has aroused a good deal of interest.

Nothing disintegrates any association of individuals bound together by a common objective outside the realm of politics or religion, than the injection of such two things into their midst.

This has been exactly proved by the experience of the U.F.A. For two months bitterness and even venom has been encouraged by political apostates amongst a group of people whose interests are identical.

The leaders of the movement are not so much interested in their policy as they are in the money for a thing could be better calculated to ensure cohesion in the political sphere.

If it be a decision, the U.F.A. can build up its membership parade to its limit, and then renew to again, that is, it is able to do, then it is not likely to pay some attention to the wishes of those upon whom it depends for the very life of the province of Alberta.

THE WHEAT RESOLUTIONS
Of the resolutions approved at the U.F.A. convention, the most important from a farmer's economic point of view, were those concerned with wheat marketing.

The convention called for outstanding of the Wheat Board and also thought to these resolutions, but also action. If anything is to be done, it must be done, and it is surely mad that a reform of this nature is a matter of slow growth temporarily by adversity. Give the U.F.A. credit for its first step and the success of its efforts as it is, finally, followed by a period of slow growth, then something may be done.

There might even pass a resolution to the effect that the U.F.A. be allowed to do so.
